2024

A day of Wellbeing, Team Building & Nature Connection

The latest evidence based research has found that learning together in nature increases feelings of wellbeing and awakens creativity, curiosity and a sense of personal agency.

Workshop Focus: This one day workshop has been designed for all educators

Venue: Pullenvale Environmental Education Centre (8:30 - 3:15)

Workshop Aims:

- To reflect on what it means to be a Connected Leader.
- To experience a sense of personal wellbeing through nature connection, reflective dialogue, and scaffolded learning.
- To develop a deeper understanding of how nature connection, Dadirri and mindful attentiveness can help grow a culture of wellbeing and deep respect for First Nations wisdom.
- To consider how adopting a Whole School Pedagogy of Place Responsiveness can help shape the design of school grounds as places of inquiry learning.

Recent Reviews:

Regional Director Brisbane Metropolitan Region

Thank you for a wonderful learning opportunity and reflective experience for every member who visited your centre.

Assistant Regional Director Brisbane Metropolitan Region

The team at PEEC brought expertise, passion and experience and shared new research-based strategies for leading successful teams.

School Principal (Band 10)

The gift of this program was both the content and the slowing down of the tempo of leadership to make it both more sustainable and honest. It has changed how I lead!

Cost: $225 per participant

Includes morning tea & lunch

Maximum of 20
